Cali Band

©2017 Deborah Roberti

MATERIALS

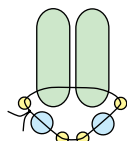

(for a 7 to 7.25-inch band, not including clasp)

- 3 yards of 6 lb. FireLine
- About 250 size 11/0 seed beads (11/0 Miyuki brand rocaille seed beads work best; Toho brand seed beads tend to be larger)
- About 34 size 3mm beads (3mm round or fire-polished beads work best)
- About 32 Cali beads
- clasp

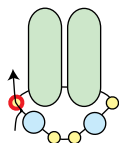

STEP 1: Thread your needle with about 3 yards of FireLine (or start with a length that you feel comfortable working with and add more later).

Leaving about a 6-inch tail that you can weave in and make disappear at any time, string a seed bead and go through the bottom holes of two Cali beads. String a seed bead, a 3mm bead, two seed beads and a 3mm bead.

Tie the beads together in a circle with a tight double knot:

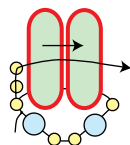

STEP 2: Go back up through the seed bead highlighted in RED:

For those who love all the new beads coming on the market, here's a free pattern for the new Cali bead—Czech 3x8mm marquise-shaped beads with three holes! These beads remind me of watch band links and I love the way they look paired up in some easy stacker bands. You can, of course, stack the beads or the bands as high as you want. It's a very easy, and sturdy, stitch pattern to master.

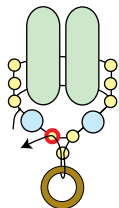

STEP 3: String two seed beads. Go across through the middle hole of the two Cali beads that you strung in the first step. (highlighted in RED):

STEP 4: String two seed beads. Go down through the seed bead, the 3mm bead and the seed bead highlighted in RED:
